Two section wins and Grand Aggregate

Elk Point Horticultural and Craft Show organizer Donna Bassett presents the 2010 Grand Aggregate award to Lillian Balazs of Cold Lake, who also won the Canning and Seniors section awards.

Cold Lake winner for aggregate

Competitors from surrounding areas shared in the wins at the 2010 Elk Point Horticulture and Craft Show and Quilt Exhibition at the A. G. Ross Arena, with Lillian Balazs of Cold Lake taking home the CJ Petroleum Grand Aggregate award.

Balazs also won a section award in canning, sponsored by the Empress Restaurant, and the Seniors' section, sponsored by Hahn Welding, as winning numerous ribbons in other sections.

"You really have to put a lot of work into winning an aggregate award," show organizer Donna Bassett said, "a lot of hunting, gathering and going through your house to collect items. We appreciate all the work everyone has done to bring in all these entries."

Second place in the aggregate went to last year's winner, Dolores Mohyluk, who won the House Plants section award from Moe's Greenhouse, the Fresh Fruit award from Woody's Trophy and Gifts and the Vegetables award from B and R Eckels along with the $30 award from the Elk Point and District Agricultural Society for aggregate runner-up.

Third place came down to a tie between Lisa Love and Verona Lea Flanders, with $25 awards from the Ag Society each. Love also won the Baking section award from Elk Point Co-op and the Knitting/Crochet/Weaving section award from Apple Drugs, while Flanders won the Arts, Crafts and Hobbies section prize from Elk Point Insurance and the Sewing award from E-Can Oilfield Services.

Other winners included Jennifer Van der Hoek in Creative Writing, sponsored by the Elk Point Review, Violet McFadyen in Flowers, sponsored by Rona, Lynn Urquhart in Yard Art, sponsored by the Ag Society and Elizabeth Orr in Grains and Hay, sponsored by Wozniak Bulk Fuels.

Summer issues confront town council

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Summertime issues surfaced at Elk Point town council's Aug. 9 meeting, with the parking of recreational vehicles on streets and a policy for dealing with campers in arrears on the agenda.

Problems have arisen with RVs parked on streets, which council feels is a safety issue as well as making it difficult for others to park in residential areas. Parking of RVs is prohibited in the town's Streets and Sidewalks Bylaw, where section 3.2 states, "No person shall park, permit to be parked, or left standing on any highway, any trailer or towable conveyance which has been detached from the vehicle which is used to draw it." Council agreed that this must be enforced. Some camping units have been parked on town property, which is also not permitted.

"There's a lot of people that will have to move their trailers," commented Deputy Mayor Dick Millar, who chaired the meeting.

Coun. Mark Gormley asked if the town had a piece of land they could designate for residents to park these units. This suggestion was tabled for further discussion.

Agreement was reached that letters informing the owners of these units that they must be moved should either be hand delivered or sent by registered mail.

The problem with campers overstaying their 14-day maximum or the time for which they have paid was also on the council table. Solutions include having a person designated to go around and collect from campers who have not paid, and delivering notices to campsites where the tenants are not on sites. Those camping outside the campground during tournaments are also required to pay a camping fee, and it was noted that at future tournaments, organizers will make sure teams and participants are aware of this fact, and will ask them to submit a deposit if they plan to camp there.

Another summer issue at the Elk Point Recreation Park is the lack of water for the golf course greens, due to difficulties with filling the course's reservoir. Coun. Dick Millar noted that the club hopes to hook into the town's pumping line to fill it. Rainfall since the meeting may have helped the situation on a short-term basis.

Fair award sponsored by Shamrock Valley Enterprises. Nadine Samuel won the Photography award from Home Town Grocers, with Seanna Leaf earning the Junior Photography award from the Ag. Society.

Bassett thanked "every exhibitor... the repeat exhibitors, the newcomers, the very young and the mature... and those who brought items in for family members" for helping to make the show a success.

House Plants and Flowers convenor Myrna Fox noted that entry numbers in those categories were down, the outdoor flowers no doubt because "the weather hasn't been the greatest." She expressed hope for better conditions next year, and asked entrants, "please come back and bring your friends."

Denise Bjorkman said the Arts, Crafts and Hobbies section entries had increased from 115 last year to 129, despite the junior entries now being included in the Junior Fair section. Some young entrants decided to compete against the adults, she noted, and it was "nice to see the young ladies participate. They do beautiful work."

Displays of information on the Classroom Agricultural Program, Elk Point Health Care

Auxiliary, Alberta Beef, Portage College and the North Saskatchewan Watershed Alliance were also part of the show.

Quilt Show

An exceptional display of more than 150 quilts and quilted items filled the east end of the arena with colour. Quilt show coordinator Verona Lea Flanders noted that many of the items were "smaller, but still amazing."

Viewers voted for their favourites, with a gorgeous full-size quilt in blues, purples and turquoise hues created by Misty Smereka winning the award of quilting fabric.

A show within the show was a display of vintage bedroom linens, including hand-embroidered bedspreads, pillowcases trimmed with elaborate crochet; and embroidery, numerous dresser scarves, a cozy afghan, nightgowns and a bed jacket.

One table was devoted to the results of a challenge offered to Further Education's quilting enthusiasts, who were each offered a quilting cartoon panel and encouraged to make something with it. Six entries were displayed, with Donna Bassett earning the most votes and the prize of a quilting book for her "quilter's cats" bag.

Summer issues confront council

Bylaws

Three bylaws were back on the table for discussion, along with an existing bylaw.

The Untidy and Un-sightly Bylaw, listing fines for non-compliance, received first reading on Aug. 9. Both the Animal Control Bylaw and the Noise Bylaw were tabled yet again for the addition of additional information.

It was agreed that not all residents are conforming to the town's Dwelling Numbering Bylaw, and those residents who do not display a house number will be asked to do so. It was noted that it is important to have a visible house number in the case of emergencies, as well as for the convenience of visitors.

ATCO rebates

Cheques for rebates reflecting the reduced cost of service to the fire hall and the Eco Centre have now arrived, with $13,316.20 shaved off the cost of each installation. Council passed a motion to write off an invoice to ATCO for work the town did on their behalf in another area of the community.

Tax assessment

Council is aware that some businesses are not happy with this year's tax assessment, and is wondering if there is any recourse if the town is also not happy with the assessed values. Town manager Myron Goyan told council that assessors must follow a government manual in determining these values, but suggested council request a meeting with the assessor before the assessment is finalized, so council could be aware of the coming changes and seek out ways to smooth the transition for ratepayers.

Garbage pickup

Goyan has spoken with the town's garbage contractors and found that there would be no extra cost for front pickup, and either the wheeled containers or conventional garbage cans can be used. A motion will be made next meeting.

50 Ave. tenders

Select Engineering provided council with the tenders received for the 50 Ave. upgrade. Council moved to accept the tender of Nikiforuk Construction Ltd. in the amount of $1.134 million.

Operating costs

Coun. Dwayne Yaremkevich reported that MuniCorr plans to purchase a tractor with a front-end loader and other attachments for mowing and grooming the entire length of the Iron Horse Trail, and would like the municipalities to share the operating cost of the unit. In Elk Point, this would amount to 1.7 per cent, which council felt was less than it would cost for their own workers to take care of the stretch through town. Yaremkevich noted that the counties, who would pay the biggest share, are in agreement with the idea, while other towns are against it.

"A well-groomed trail means a lot," Deputy Mayor Millar agreed. Council moved to accept the idea and asked Goyan to prepare a letter indicating Elk Point's support.

Economic development

Economic development coordinator Bob Bezpalko is continuing his efforts to work with the county to foster economic growth. Current county Reeve Robert Bouchard is seeking reelection and has indicated that one of his goals would be to see a medical centre established in St. Paul. County CAO Sheila Kitz has indicated the county's support of that project would be monetary, Bezpalko said.

"What steps are we taking to ensure our current level of health care continues?" Bezpalko asked. "I'm glad we have stable doctors." He noted that the EDC chair would like to focus on attracting an additional doctor.

Bezpalko plans to sit down with Kitz and discuss ideas ranging for regional tourism to inter-municipal planning. He has reviewed the 2008 SWOT analysis and does not feel much as changed in the almost two years since that time. "We can't do it by ourselves. We have to work together."

Deputy Mayor Millar noted, "I think it's a good idea to raise the issue of a medical clinic again."

Strong progress being made in watershed planning

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The executive director of the North Saskatchewan Watershed Alliance (NSWA) reports "strong progress" is being made in 2010 on watershed management for the North Saskatchewan River basin.

David Trew says the development of a draft integrated watershed management plan (IWMP) for the basin is well underway. "This major undertaking aims to protect the long-term supply and quality of water resources for future generations."

The draft plan has now been prepared, and is under final review by the NSWA board of directors, Trew says, and the document addresses "A diverse range of water, land and development issues. It incorporates stakeholder interests and addresses the current policy contest for watershed plan implementation."

It is anticipated that the draft plan will be released for stakeholder, sector and public review this autumn, and the NSWA board of directors plans to submit it to the government in the spring of 2011, following an extensive six-month review process.

"We expect that the release of the draft plan will focus attention on water management issues at many levels, and could generate much discussion," Trew says. "Its recommended actions are directed to provincial ministries, municipal government, private industry, utilities and other organizations, and propose that NSWA will perform a major coordination role in the future implementation of the IWMP."

Those who attended watershed forums earlier this summer will be sent a copy of the draft plan early this fall. Another series of forums will also be held to continue open discussion of the plan.

All-out efforts, all around

So much effort, sometimes in so little time, sometimes over weeks and months, was put in by so many to make this year's Elk Point Agricultural Society Horticulture and Craft Show and Quilt Exhibition an enormous success.

For the organizers, the show means a weekend packed with effort - setting up, taking and arranging entries, stapling ribbons to tags, tabulating results, taking admissions at the door -, following varying amounts of preliminary work to prepare prize lists, category cards and displays.

Entrants have been working many months on some of the items they brought in - stitching quilts or needlework, knitting sweaters, painstakingly crafting scrapbook pages or greeting cards, seeding, weeding and encouraging flowers and vegetables, while in some categories, the biggest job was deciding what to take in. Then comes the tagging, loading everything into the vehicle, carting it into and out of the arena, and hauling it home again.

A lot of work, but every minute of it worthwhile, when you see what a great show it creates. Awesome!

Way Back When...

Land dispute, doctor departure, Legion dedication

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF AUG. 17 IN...

1985

Town council voted to go ahead with development of a series of highway commercial lots to meet increased demand, and also discussed various options for development of the second phase of the industrial park. A half-million-dollar Esso bulk oil facility was put on hold due to a land dispute between the town and a contracting company.

1990

Norma Berg won her fourth Elk Point Fair grand aggregate award in five years, with second and third places going to Lois Yaremkevich and Jean Dacyk. The search for another doctor was underway, following the announcement that Dr. Frank Estey would be closing his office, leaving Dr. McNeilly as the lone physician in town.

1995

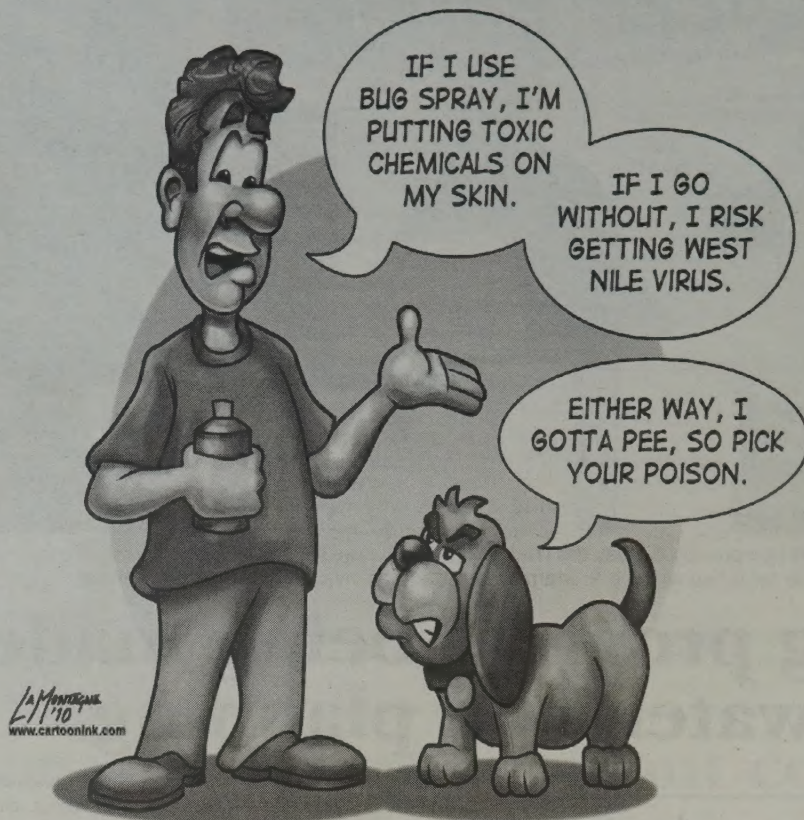

Fifty years of peace since World War II ended with victory over Japan was recognized when Elk Point Royal Canadian Legion dedicated their new cenotaph. Christina Brown won her second Elk Point Fair grand aggregate, with Lois Yaremkevich and Norma Berg as runners-up.

2000

An exceptional quilt show, featuring 55 handcrafted beauties, was the highlight of Elk Point's Agricultural Fair, where Lois Yaremkevich won the grand aggregate award. Sheep were killed and missing and a shelterbelt lay in tangled ruins after a wild windstorm swept trough Bill and Sheila Kulczycki's farmyard.

2005

Wagon trail enthusiasts looked back at their experiences and adventures during years of Happy Trails treks at a reunion in Heinsburg. An arena filled with produce, crafts and 94 quilts and quilted items was the hub of activity as the Elk Point Horticultural and Craft Show and Quilt Exhibition got underway, Christina Brown claiming the grand aggregate award for the second consecutive year.

GUEST COLUMN

Positive school attitude

As the end of summer vacation and a new school year approaches, many changes arrive. It's a big transition for kids and teachers going back to school. This transition requires focus from everyone involved. To go back to school with a positive attitude is a shared responsibility between teacher and student and one that is supported by parents.

The first day of school! Students are ready, and despite their own denials, eager to learn. Most of them will approach the new year with a desire to do better. How do we keep this eagerness alive? Teachers must create a safe, positive classroom environment where an expectation of achievement exists. The following are some possible tips that can be tried.

■ Be at your door from day one. Students need to find you ready to greet them and excited about the new year.

■ Smile! If you are not happy to be in class, how can you expect your students to be happy?

■ Do not complain to the students about how many of them are crammed into your classroom.

■ Have work ready for the first day. Have a warm up and agenda on the board. Students will quickly learn your expectations while getting the message that learning will take place everyday in class.

■ Make your classroom a safe place for all students. For example, established no stereotypes, prejudices or any other inappropriate comments shall be made by anyone in your classroom.

The Elk Point Review publishes a variety of opinions as a contribution to debate on matters of public concern. Unsigned editorials express the view of this newspaper's editorial board which includes the Publisher and the Editor. Signed pieces express the view of the individual writer.

Then there are the students. From summer free time, downtime and play-outdoors time - a new school year puts an end to late bed times and no homework. Now the kids have to wake up early and bring home books. The following are some possible tips parents can use to help their kids.

■ Slowly change routines. Begin by talking about what the school week will look like. Let the kids know what time the school day starts and ends. Calculate how much time they'll need to get ready before getting out the door. Ask if they would like to practice the routine for a couple of days or a week.

■ Use positive spin. Going back to school after two months of summer holidays can be either a happy time or something to be dreaded, depending on the child and experience with the school. Start the year off in a positive direction by talking about all the fun events they have to look forward to. From seeing friends again, to after-school activities, to learning new information.

■ Establish a good attitude. Buy school supplies. Whether it's cool pencils, a lunch box or a notebook, shopping for new supplies is exciting for kids.

■ Plan a menu. Kids who are given choices in the matters that affect them are more invested in making the school year successful. One way to impact the feeling of involvement is to ask what they would like for breakfast, lunch and dinner for the first week. Stock the cupboards with some of their favorite snacks. There is nothing like knowing that treats are awaiting them when they get home.

■ Consider homework philosophy. Ask if they have any ideas to make homework go smoothly this year.

■ Organize their space. This may require cleaning and de-junking a room. A fresh space translates into a positive outlook.

■ Hold an end-of-summer celebration. This helps. Whoops! Our long weekend is coming! Have a great one everyone!

Roadwork slower than anticipated

By JANICE HUSER
Review Contributor

Due to the wetter-than expected weather this spring and summer, road repairs in the County of St. Paul are moving somewhat slower than planned.

"Unfortunately, we're not ahead of schedule," said County of St. Paul Public Works Superintendent Leo deMoissac, at last week's regular council meeting on Aug. 10. Some oiling has been done in Divisions 1, 2, 3, and 4, and work was being done in Division 5, but Divisions 6 and 7 had not been touched as of last week.

"It hasn't been a very good year for oiling," said deMoissac. Council had originally thought that if roadwork was ahead of schedule this year, more work could have been done.

Polling station

Ratepayer Amil Shapka requested council reconsider its decision to host a polling station at a private business during the upcoming fall election.

Since the hall at Riverview was demolished, a private business has offered to act as a polling station so voters do not have to travel to other communities. While discussing the request, Coun. Glen Ockerman said he believes area ratepayers are happy with the location and added that he also believes it is quite an active polling station.

Coun. Maxine Fodness stated that she still has concerns with the location because of campaigning that took place at the business during last year's plebiscite. Coun. Tom Kurek made a motion to continue to use the business as a polling station. That motion was carried.

"I just hope (the same situation) doesn't reoccur," said Fodness.

Due to "ongoing" issues with 911 dispatch services, County employee Dennis Bergheim requested council start looking at possibilities to fix the system.

If the county chooses to stay with Strathcona as a dispatcher, emergency services would have to update their equipment. The county could also choose to go through Bonnyville, which is "right out our backdoor," explained Bergheim.

Making a change would be a permanent one. Ockerman made the suggestion to set up a committee to look at the issues.

"Everything has to be looked at closely," said Reeve Robert Bouchard. A motion to set up a committee to look at the dispatching issue was carried.

Lac Sante ASP

Council has made a couple more amendments to the proposed Lac Sante Area Structure Plan. A new recommendation put before council recommends that new developers at Lac Sante do environmental impact studies.

Tying development to the number of lots available could artificially inflate prices if developers choose to hold onto lots in order to hold up other possible developments. The cost of an environmental impact study would depend on the size of property being developed and any existing development that already exists on the property.

The amendment also requires future landowners to sign an environmental code of conduct, which is sort of like a condominium agreement, explained Krystle Fedoretz, the county's new development authority.

All amendments will be made to the document, which will then be brought back to council for second and third readings.

Approach

Last week, council heard from a county ratepayer who was unhappy with the placement of a 70-foot wide approach that was built across from his property at Bayview Beach, located on Upper Mann Lake.

Tyson Newby expressed his concern that the approach would increase vehicle and ATV traffic in the area because of the near-by quad trail. He noted that if the approach is needed for access by an area farmer, then "I totally understand." But, he noted he is still unhappy with the lack of notification he received and the placement of the approach.

The area previously had trees, and Newby is concerned about the look of the approach, and the possibility that his driveway and yard might drift this winter. He was also concerned because the roads in the area are not built to handle large trucks, such as semis that might be hauling hay out of the land being accessed by the approach.

"I think there were other opportunities there, other options," said Newby to council.

Bouchard asked Newby what he felt could be done to rectify the situation. Ideally, Newby said he would like the approach to be moved.

Coun. Frank Sloan explained that the main objective from the landowner, who paid for the approach, is to sell the property. Previously, the landowner accessed the property in question through adjacent land that he also owns. Sloan also stated that the placement of the approach looked like the most suitable place to him.

Bouchard agreed that the approach needs to be cleaned up and the area fenced.

"There should be no access to it," he added. But, he also noted that the approach has to be wide enough for a semi hauling hay. He further explained to Newby that moving the approach would take more trees out of the area.

After discussing the issue, Fodness made a motion to refer the issue to public works and have the approach cleaned up and fenced. The motion was carried.

Rodeo

The Mallaig Legion will receive this year's proceeds from the County of St. Paul's beef-on-a-bun supper to be held during the annual Lakeland Rodeo Association Finals in St. Paul. Also, council denied a request from the North East Alberta Track (NEAT) Club to be a sponsor at the upcoming Rodeo Mile road race.

ATV course

Some council members were surprised at the cost associated with sending an employee to an ATV/UTV training course. The course prepares an employee to train other people on using the off-highway vehicles.

Since the county owns quite a few UTVs, deMoissac felt it was important that an employee take the $2,000 course.

"It's not cheap, I agree... But safety is a big issue. We have to stay on top of it," said the public works superintendent. Council passed a motion to send an employee to the course.

Bylaw officer

The County of Two Hills requested that the County of St. Paul consider sharing its bylaw officer for the remainder of the summer season, but council did not agree it was a good idea.

Two Hills is interested in having a bylaw officer enforce and write tickets at Lac Sante, stated information received by the county. But, St. Paul council did not think it would be a good idea to have a bylaw officer writing tickets in one municipality and not in the other. Although the county's bylaw officer is trained to write tickets, he does not do so in the County of St. Paul.

Fodness thought the issue could be looked at next year, but council agreed to deny the present request.

Safety

A safety committee meeting is now being held every month. One of the issues that the county will look into next spring is to apply to have its workers work longer than 12-hour days, on occasion.

With road construction, it sometimes makes sense to have workers put in 14-hour days, because of unpredictable weather that may cause employees to have extra days off.

"It's not every single day," said CAO Sheila Kitz, but having the approval to do this would be beneficial during road construction season because it is a short season.

COUNTY OF ST. PAUL No.19

HIGHLIGHTS

August 10, 2010 Council Meeting

Painting of the Administration Building – The County administration building will be getting a new look. Bodnar Painting has been hired to paint the outside of the building and will be starting soon.

Public Works – Council wanted to revisit the oiling projects that were approved in May to determine if there was more time and money to do additional projects. The Public Works Superintendent informed Council that the oiling has been slow because of the weather. They have done a few dust controls in each division but no oiling has been done in Divisions 5, 6 or 7 yet. They will move into those divisions to work on the oiling and dust controls as weather permits.

Blue Flame Contracting has completed the paving in the new subdivision in the Hamlet of Mallaig.

Work has commenced on Krider Road which is being prepared for paving later this summer.

New Approach in Bayview Beach Subdivision – A resident at Bayview Beach is unhappy that he was not notified before a 70 foot approach was built across from his property to serve as an access to NE 26-59-11-W4. He is concerned that his driveway will now drift during the winter months because of the trees that have been cleared and that the approach will be used by quads coming off of the trail into the Bayview Beach Subdivision. The Public Works Department will remediate the access by cleaning up the approach and installing a gate at the approach.

Proceeds from Rodeo Supper – The County will be sponsoring a Beef-on-a-Bun Toonie supper on Saturday, September 4th at the Rodeo. The proceeds from the supper will be donated to the Mallaig Legion. Any groups who are interested in receiving the proceeds from the supper for 2011 are invited to submit a request to Council in the spring of 2011. The group who receives the proceeds must supply the workers for the door.

2010 Fall Election – The County entered into an agreement with St. Paul Education Regional Division No. 1 to hold a joint election. This allows residents to vote for Reeve-at-Large, County Councillor and School Trustee at one location and the costs of running the election will be shared with SPERD and the County.

As requested by Amil Shapka, Council revisited their decision to hold a polling station at Valley Service Station. Council decided that they will hold the polling station there again, as it is a central location for the ratepayers in Division 1.

Town of St. Paul Annexation – County Council approved the request from the Town of St. Paul to Annex 43 acres owned by Jacques and Gail Plante and 107 acres owned by the Town of St. Paul in the NE 9-58-9-W4 on the condition that Jacques and Gail Plante receive the lower tax rate for the next ten years or until the use of the land changes.

St. Paul Fire Department Heavy Rescue/Command Unit – The St. Paul Fire Department will be ordering a new Rescue Unit that will be funded in part through fundraising efforts and various grants. The Town and County have each contributed $75,000 towards the purchase of this unit and now they are agreeing to split the shortfall. The County's contribution for the shortfall will be $16,000.

Planning and Development Department – In an effort to streamline the planning and development process within the County, a new department has been established. Krystle Fedoretz has been appointed as the Development Authority to replace Glenn Zayac, who will now focus on assessment. Dennis Bergheim has been appointed as the Subdivision Authority effective October 1, 2010 to replace Municipal Planning Services, a company out of Edmonton that was contracted as the county's subdivision authority.

911 Service – The Fire Departments have on various occasions, experienced poor communication links with the 911 service from Strathcona. In order to improve this communication link, we will require significant upgrades to our equipment. The St. Paul Fire Committee and the Elk Point Fire Committee will meet jointly to review and analyze all available options for 911 Service in order to determine the best fit for our area.

County Website - Any non-profit or small charity based organization within the County of St. Paul can have a FREE website, domain name and email through the County's Website. You can check it out at www.freecommunitywebsites.com. Call for more details.

- BizPaL is now available on the County Website. BizPaL provides customized information on licenses and permits required by all levels of government to set up a business. BizPaL aggregates licence and permit information from multiple jurisdictions and helps businesses to navigate this information through a simple on-line question-and-answer wizard.

Conferences/Seminars - Staff members were approved to attend the following conferences, seminars and courses:

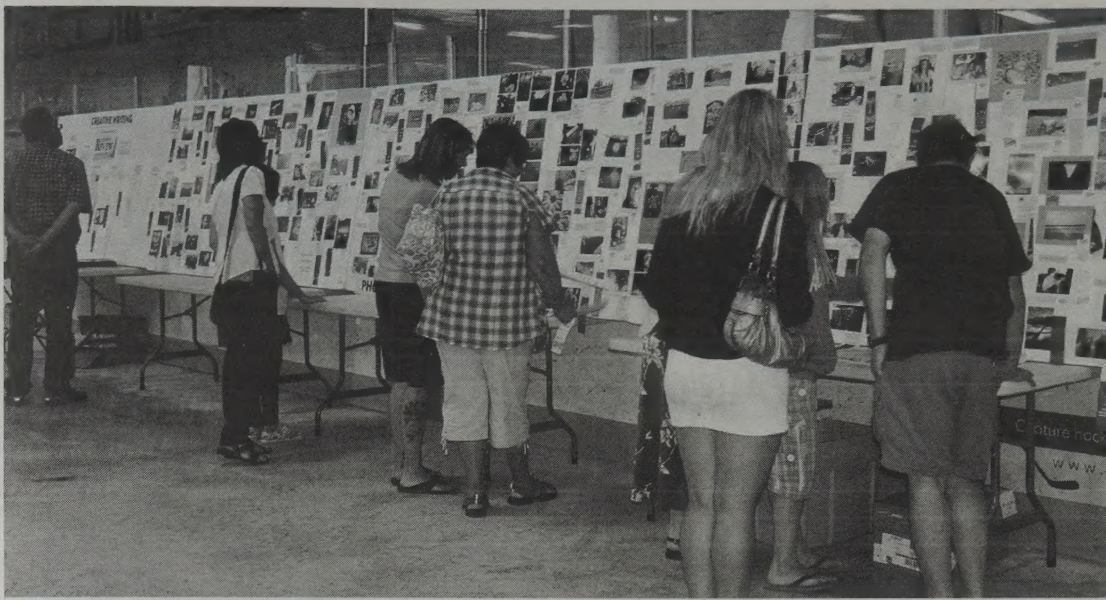

- "Alberta Emergency Alert" Public Warning System to train employees on the new Public Warning System – D. Bergheim, S. Kitz, T. Mahdiuk, B. Bepalko
- ATV & UTV Train the Trainer Course to update the Safety Supervisor so he is able to train employees on safe use of ATVs and UTVs – B. Bepalko

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of Barrie Wayne McFADYEN

May 3, 1945 - Aug. 22, 2007

Time goes on without you, the days are now three years, filled with thousands of memories and as many silent tears. To us you were so special, what more is there to say, except to wish with all our hearts that you were here today. You were always there when we needed you, no task was too big or too small, with loving heart and willing hands, for us you did it all. They say time heals all sorrow, but we know that isn't true because it hurts just as much today as it did three years ago.

Remembering you with Love,
Chris & Family

It has been three long and difficult years since you have been gone. How we all long to hear your voice, to see your face, The twinkle in your eyes, and your ever ready smile.

To sit with you and chat over coffee at home with you and Chris or at Mom's. Or anywhere - that would be our greatest wish.

We know the hands of time will not turn back. To the time when we were all together.

We are thankful for the years we had with you and all the times we shared.

You did so many things for each of us in your humble and gentle way.

You had a heart of gold, so kind and true.

Whenever help, support or caring advice was needed,

We could always count on you.

No words can ever express how much we love you, Barrie,

And how much we miss you more and more each passing day.

Lovingly and forever remembered, Mother Violet, Brother Malcolm, Marge and Family, and Sister Myrna and Bill.

Welcome to the 27th Annual Elk Point OILMEN'S GOLF TOURNAMENT

August 20 and 21, 2010

President's message

It's that time again, the Elk Point Oilmen's Golf Tournament is about to commence. On behalf of the E.P.O.A., I would like to send out a warm welcome to all.

There are so many people to thank. Let me begin with our community, who every year, seems to go that extra mile for us to make the atmosphere so enjoyable and comfortable for all. Without the generosity from the many sponsors, donors, volunteers and businesses (old and new), we would not be able to hold such an event every year. THANK YOU SO MUCH!!

Let us not forget the Elk Point Golf Course (Ian, Bea and staff). We appreciate the long hours you put into preparing everything for our festivities. Your hard work is and will be noticed in the forthcoming event, thanks to all.

Now to all participating golfers, your scores have all improved from last year. Your fellowship, companionship and camaraderie will be in top form. And the reminiscing of last year to this year will of course be at its best. To the E.P.O.A. golf committee, I know the job you fellows have done and the effort put into this year's function will again do us proud.

In closing, I wish the best to all golfers and non-golfers. Enjoy celebrating with us, our 27th golf tourney. Have fun, but remember, please do not drink and drive for we have shuttle service to accommodate all. We want everybody to get home safely to be able to return next year.

Great summer for Elk Point's Mosquito Sox

It's been great summer for the mosquitoes. The ones I'm talking about are the ones who play baseball, not the biting kind, although the biting kind have had a good summer as well. Down in Camrose at the Big Valley Jamboree I heard that the people paid up to $40 a can for bug spray, it was that bad!

Our Elk Point Mosquito ball team entered into provincials this year for the first time since Ron Salt and Russ Hebblewhite put together a mosquito provincial team, and that was way back in the mid '90s. Lois Mutch was the manager then, and I remember very well on game days her packing almost the whole team into her van and off they went to the ball game. She was a real trooper, for sure.

This year's team probably wouldn't have happened either if it wasn't for some really super volunteers, like coach Dennell Anderson, who was part of the coaching staff, and was also the new minor ball president after taking over from long time minor ball president Lavern "Trapper" Wilson. Laverne is now working as a consultant for minor ball, he was kicked upstairs but the pay is the same.

Dennell pushed to get new uniforms for all the teams, boys and girls, and at the deadline in late June, she took a chance and entered a team into the community level mosquito provincials. Aaron Tremblay and Kevin McGillvray were also instrumental in seeing us field a team, volunteering their time, extra practices two or three times a week and games on weekends. And most important, every team need a manager to keep things organized. Twila Stafford not only phoned the team, organizing practice time, making sure enough players would make the games, finding scorekeepers, umpires, etc, and on top of all that she organized staffing the concession almost every weekend as a fundraiser for the new uniforms and equipment that we purchased, and when she couldn't find anyone else to work, she did it herself.

Of course if you are going to enter a team into provincials you need the commitment from the parents and players. This year's team was comprised of players from Elk Point, Bonnyville and St. Paul; and here's what the coaching staff had to say about the players.

Brian Bazian wasn't able to make the final weekend in Fort McMurray but played a big part on the team's first two round robin weekends on shortstop with his strong arm and quick feet. Pitchers Austin "Ozzy" Stafford and Peter Horse faced some tough sluggers and shut them down for the Sox. Bonnyville product Jonus Church was solid behind the plate, blocking wild pitches and his strong arm kept the opposition honest on the base paths. Garrett McGillvray, Caleb MacKinnon and Christopher Moyaiah all had golden gloves on first base and in the outfield they tracked down the fly balls and hit the cut off man. Infielders Kaiden "K

Rock" Evans-Anderson and Ethan Tremblay blocked many hard hit grounders that held the runners on first; otherwise they would have gotten extra bases. Versatile Anson Smith played all the positions well, getting outs with his strong throws. Some nice defensive plays by Aaron Goulet who played the hotbox on third making the long hard and quick throws to first to get the outs, Joe Laurie was a strong hitter who drove in many runs, Brayden Mondoux was a force on second, strong arm and a golden glove. With his quick reflexes, Ross McGillvray played awesome at shortstop and behind the plate as catcher. Austin "Ozzy" Stafford, Kaiden "K Rock" Evans-Anderson, and Caleb MacKinnon each won a Heart and Hustle Award in Fort McMurray.

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week. "A successful coach needs a patient wife, loyal dog, and a great quarter-back- and not necessarily in that order." Last weeks answer to: "Leadership, like coaching, is fighting for the hearts and souls of men/women and getting them to believe in you." - Eddie Robinson.
